WANTED TO MAKE SURE OF IT THIS TIME.

Thursday a tall, masculine appearing female, who clung to a diminutive looking specimen of a man whom she called husband, entered a Griswold street life insurance office, and asked to see the insurance man. The agent ushered them into a reception room and asked them to be seated. In a few minutes the woman opened the conversation with: "Mr. Insurance man, I'll tell you my business here." "You see that man there,' pointing to the pigmy who was 'quietly seated at her side, "well he is my husband-my third husband, and I want to insure his life for three thousand dollars." The smiling agent, with an eye to business, rubbed his hands complacently and politely requested the little husband to go with him to the office of the company's examining physician, a short distance up the street. After the Lilliputian had been rigidly examined the doctor wrote out a certificate as to his possessing the necessary qualifications which entitled him to a life insurance, when the two returned to the insurance office, where the Amazonian female was impatiently waiting for them. A clerk having drawn up the necessary papers she took out a roll of bills and paid the first installment on the policy, which document she folded carefully together and hid in the depths of her skirt pocket. On taking their departure the prudent wife turned to the insurance agent and thanking him for his promptness in making out the policy, remarked that "she wasn't go-ing to be fooled this time." The agent politely asked for an explanation of this trange remark, whereupon she replied hat her first husband died on her hands before she knew of the existence

RHODE ISLAND has a model Chief Justice. He has requested the Legislature to reduce his salary from $5,000 to $4,500 per year, because he is of the opinion that there should not be more than $500 difference between the salary of the Chief Justice and his Associates. The name of this upright Judge is Thomas Durfee

Dainkens and chawers take notice. The Committee of Ways and Means his decided to report in fivor of an additional tax of lifteen cents per gallon on all whisky now on hand, and thirty cents per gallon on future manufac tures. An additional tax of four cents a pound is also to be laid on tobacco.

A past of eruelty to a untils has recently come to light, which, if true, ought to subject the author of it to severe punishment. The story is that a man named Coleman, who lives near Canton, Fulton county, in this Scite, and who is wealthy, but noted for he presenting of a moroso and revene ful disposition, some ion years ago became caraged at a young colt, and he determined to punish the art all by lift imprisonment. Accordingly he built a small pin about ten by twilve, and thatched it with traw and but the rolt in for the term of life. The animal was fed regularly and sufficiently but never left that pen. Through went of exerriso his frame became distorted, his legs thin and crooked, while the poor brute's skin hung loos ly on his shrivcled body. His front hoofs grew to the length of eighteen inches, turning upward, while his hind hoofs were away nearly to the first joint. And thus this unoffen liog damo brute was k pt in close confinement by his inhuman master, for the space of ten years, until ings. The case was brought to the atrention of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animal , and Coleman will be punished for his cruely.

The above story looks a little fish but if the facts me as so itel, the man must have been a brate of the levist order, and a term in the penite time would be a fit punishm at far hea-chivalry was their freedom from scandal. A doughty knight's superfluous hours were generally pretty equally divided between sharpening his lance, The Troubles of the T. making love or getting drunk; and it is therefore reasonable to be presumed he had not much time to spare for talking over the petty weaknesses of the knight of the ghastly cross bones, or Sir Hildebrand de Hudibras, with the shield of the painted griffin. If a fellow said anything about another felow's maiden he simply mounted his neighing steed, clapped his hemlet vioolently over his caput, sung out, "a murrain on thee for a perjured knight,' and skewered him in the most important part of his digestive apparatus. If a priest got mellow over a bin of good old wine, or took a fancy to making love in a pious and clerical manner, a few aves would set him all right, and nobody be a bit the wiser. And as for the ladies : poor things, if young, they were generally shut up in a big eastle, where they passed their time in play ing the spinn t or in the equally useful art of embroidery; or if ancient and yellow, permitted to say their prayers and ponder up in the vanity of human wishes. But we have changed all that. We take to scandal as naturally as a duck to water. We swarm around it like bees. Our men take it out and gloat over its beauties in the intervals of business, they swallow it like the slippery of ster, and our women-dear, progressive creatures as they are-they | interests are involved, and the proposed go prepared with their little dinners in a basket, they feast their eyes on good Mr. Beecher, and hang, as it were, on

be overlooked in reckoning the score of the man whom the best known of all him everywhere, is that to the trickster | Charms." belongs position and power, it is good to nail the general attention on a notable instance of honesty's success. Mr. Dawes has displayed the flexibility of the politician always. He has bent to storms, and stood aside to let tidal waves sweep harmlessly by. But he has been financially perpendicular from the day he entered Congress in 1858. No suspicion of an itching palm attaches to him. Credit Mobilier grazed him but no scratch shows. The ugliest of political opponents and meanest of newspaper scorpions do not dare to be other than guardedly obscure in tying his name so that gigantic corrup tion. The writer of the above named article must have had a sad training indeed to be so dwarfed in mind as to suppose that the meetings are being held for the purpose of hearing voices "as sweet-toned as that of a flute in the hands of a skillful performer." The proper place for the writer of that article would have been to a minstrel performance, where the music would have been more to the taste, and would, undoubtedly, have been more appreciated than praises sung to the Lord. Not alone being content with being a hypocritical Christian, the writer stoops so low as to become the champion of one jealous in the knowledge of inferiority in Christianity, but to also stoop to deliberate falsehood, when saying: "Another lady with a cracked voice, with no sweetness, and singing to the annoyance of every one some outlandish tune which dated as far back as the sixteenth century, no one in the house knowing it, not even herself." All who have heard the above alluded to lady sing, know the above remarks to be a wanton falschood, and undoubtedly those of any two men who were in incited by contemptible motives, as I, Congress. But I admire an honest a disinterested spectator, know well by man, even if he comes from Massachu- heart those beautiful lines, beginning "Angels now are hovering 'round us," and was raised to a higher degree of love to the Lord in hearing its beautiful rendition, and which was suug with most correctness, sweetness and power of voice, and which are gifts given by the Lord to sing in His praise. "Undoubtedly in the future "A Lover

Good Singing" will become a lover of Christ, and then repentance and truth will be a redeeming quality to prevent a lack of all Christian graces. A LOVER OF TRUTH.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.

SENATE CHAMBER, TOPEKA, KANSAS, Feb. 9, 1875. MESSRS. E. A. GASTMAN AND W. T Wells. Committee

Gentlemen: On behalf of the people of Sumner county, Kansas, permit me to tender through you to the philanthropic ladies of Decatur, grateful thanks for their generous contribution to the relief fund, ($37.05), this day received. May the good people of Decatur ever prosper, and may they ever be in a condition to assist the unfortunate needy and destitute. Again thanking you, gentlemen, for your kind remembrance. I remain

> Gratefully yours, H C. ST. CLAIR.

[The funds above referred to were the proceeds of the entertainment given at the opera house a few weeks since.

Sociable Postponed .- On account of the deep snow and very cold weather the sociable to have been held by the ladies of the Presbyterian Church last night did not take place. It will be given on some evening next week, of which due notice will be given.

Released .-- Charley Scott, the mulatto who was sentence I to jail at the last term of the circuit court for attempted rape, was released a day or two ago, the time of his sentence having expired.-Jail life seems to agree with "Chawles," for he has gained in flesh considerably since his first imprisonment.

Postponed. - On account of the bad weather the ladies of the Baptist Church have postuoned their sociable until some given of the time.

CITY WORK HOUSE.

Magnet & Tribune of the 5th inst., that our City Council have taken up the subject of a work house. For some time, if I mistake not, our city papers have accident while crossing a trestle work a subject; and nothing of a local charactering a broken rail the engine ran off ter has been much oftener mentioned on the track, and in an instant the whole the street corners and in some of the train was in the creek below, having usual loafing quarters than a city workhouse, where offenders could be made top of one of the coaches fell the enbut our council have been appealed to thrown from their seats. The conductor, urged by some of their constituents in also stated that a half dozen of the pasaway, is quite another matter. The question has two sides to it, and both should be fully examined before anything is done in the premises.

It will be seen by reference to the criminals, the main question to consider persons who were from the place of acis whether such an institution will reduce the expenses of the city. It is difficult for your correspondent to see what kind of employment can be carried on in a work-house-who will necessarily be its inmates to justify the outlay. By a reference to the State laws, with which such work-house would have to conform, it will be seen at a glance that the institution would be an expensive one. If there should be any proportion between the officers mentioned in the law and the necessary buildings, the latter will be expensive. The law provides for a board of inspectors, a superintendent, subordinate officers, guards, and

At a moderate calculation it would require $10,000 to parchase ground and erect suitable buildings. The interest on this would be $1,000 per annum. The evening next week. Due notice will be cost of a board of directors, a superintendent, subordinate officers, book-keepers, guards, cooks, provisions, fuel, repairs, gas, (perhaps), etc., to say nothing of possible stealings, would likely be $6,000-making a grand total of $7,000 annually. This would be an expense of a little over $19.00 a day to the city; an amount sufficient to pay the board of thirty-eight petty criminals. Now, it so happens that sometimes we lo not have any offenders in the calaboose at all; at other times we have one or two; then again we may have five or tive assurance that these numbers will State when a young man, and his minisbe materially increased for some time to ons married in court the other day by come. Then the main question arises, would it not be less expensive to board these offenders at the hotel de Hofacker, as we have heretofore, than to run the risk of trying to make them earn $19.00 most important and responsible posiper day. Will some one "rise and explain" how they could make that amount, or any ways near it, daily. It should not be forgotten, in this connection, that a large portion of offenders have no trade; and perhaps a majority who find their way to the calaboose go there highly intoxicated. Then, again, their sentence range from four or five days to ten or fifteen. How in the name of common sense could such men be profitably employed, within doors, for such limited that Dr. Price's True Flavoring Extracts periods. It is a notorious fact that hundreds of manufacturing establishments, but natural flavors, delicate and grateful even where large subsidies have been tre with a narration of amusing incidents the Dr. kept his audience in an growing rapidly in popular favor. The bor can be had, are not able to meet special recommendations of Dr. Price's current expenses. Would it be safe ble institution and fill it with a little arhalf more than those purporting to conmy of officers? Certainly not. The her sore bereavement. time may come when Decatur should for a person of pure and healthy tastes to build a work-house, but it will be some years hence. Not the least objectionable feature of this project is that a new batch of officers would be called into existence. I think it is now fully conceded that the multiplicity of officers is the greatest curse of our country. Each new public officer is but another extra tax-eater, and
